

ANONYMOUS 17202 - New submission from Early Years Strategy - Public Submissions

Early years education should be heavily play based, alongside a synthetic phonics program and basic numeracy skills. Lessen the cognitive load and reduce curriculum expectations for the first 2 years. Invest in teachers, value their job. Smaller class sizes and provide support staff regardless of whether there are additional needs.