

ANONYMOUS 17214 - New submission from Early Years Strategy - Public Submissions

There are not enough childcare in the area. The waiting list are way to long. You need to sign up your child while still in the womb to even have a chance. Some consideration should be taken into account for the family situation. I cannot go back to work as I have no other family here and I can't find a childcare although I am willing to travel 30-4ind by car either north or south